MARTIAL LAW

In Great Ports of Enemy Declared—Reports Say Strike in Germany Are Still Spreading Widely—Hun Papers Say Outbreak on Wane and Workmen Return to Labors.

Declaration of martial law in the great ports of Hamburg and Bremen and lack of definite news concerning the progress of the strike movement in Germany indicate the possibility that the authorities have taken stern measures to deal with the discontented workmen. Belated reports, however, show that the movement has spread widely since Monday. Some correspondents in Holland believe that the situation has grown worse, owing to the efforts of the German Government to minimize the importance of the strike and the scarcity of news.

While a report from Copenhagen says that all the Socialist leaders have been summoned to Berlin to discuss political questions, advices received in Amsterdam are to the effect that Chancellor von Hertling, following the example of Minister of the Interior Waltraff, refused to see a strikers' delegation.

In Berlin there has been a fatal clash between the strikers and the police and minor disturbances are reported to have occurred in other sections, as well as in the suburbs, of the capital. The Berlin press says the movement in Berlin has reached a climax and that it is losing its effectiveness.

Reports received at Amsterdam from other industrial sections say that the strike is not getting full support. More than 700,000 workers have been reported on strike in Berlin. There are reports of a new strike in the Dortmund mining district and in Dantzig and Munich, while it is said that the strikers in Neuremberg, Bavaria, have returned to their tasks.

Mr. Charles Downing, who has been attending State University at Lexington, is visiting his parents of the county.

BOOTLEGGERS CAPTURED

Walter Lewis, Colored, and Henry Gill Arrested Yesterday Afternoon By Chief of Police Ort and Officer Stewart—Had Large Amount of Whiskey in Their Possession.

Chief of Police Harry A. Ort and Officer A. G. Stewart late yesterday afternoon arrested Walter Lewis, colored, and Henry Gill, both of this city, on a charge of bootlegging.

Lewis and Gill have been under suspicion for some time and have been closely watched for the past several weeks. Yesterday morning the two men went to Lexington and thought they would escape the vigilance of the local officers by getting off the train at Summit Station, a short distance from this city.

Ike McAllister, confederate of Lewis, secured a buggy at a local livery barn yesterday afternoon and started out the Fleming pike. Soon after Thomas Dryden, Gill's partner, took the same trail in another buggy.

Chief of Police Ort and Officer Stewart followed soon after in an automobile and met the four men returning to this city. Chief Ort stopped the buggy in which Lewis and McAllister were riding and placed both under arrest. Officer Stewart went to the other buggy to arrest the occupants. Dryden jumped from the vehicle and made his escape but Gill was arrested.

Both Gill and Lewis had a good supply of wet goods in their possession. The men will be given a hearing in Police Court this afternoon.

EXIT GERMAN MEASLES

IT'S LIBERTY MEASLES
Camp Dix, N. J., February 1—Contending that it sounds unpatriotic to have German measles, the soldiers at the cantonment here who are suffering from the much-abused malady have started a movement to change the name of the disease to "Liberty measles." Camp surgeons who have heard the gibes and jokes aimed at their patients are so sympathetic, it was said, they might make an appeal to Washington to have a new brand of measles officially designated.

APPEAL MADE

To Typists and Stenographers to Assist in Food Conservation Work.

The State Food Conservation Headquarters has sent to Mason county two orders that require an equipped office and office force to carry out. There is not one cent of appropriation for this Food Conservation work. It is all voluntary service.

There is great need of the assistance of stenographers and typists—especially typists.

In registering Monday for voluntary service, it is hoped some stenographers and typists will register for an hour or two a day until these orders from State Headquarters are carried out.

It was emphasized at the recent Louisville war meeting that in the present crisis Food Conservation takes precedence of every other war service—since men must eat to live as well as to fight.

Germany four-fifths feeds herself. Our allies even in normal times only one-fifth feed themselves. They look to us for food or they must go under and leave us to fight it out alone or make an ignoble peace.

Come help where your help is most needed. Make it known to the Chairman of Food Conservation if you are willing to help with this work. Here is a chance to do your bit to win the war and help keep up Mason county's record for excellence in war service.

HEATLESS MONDAYS MAY BE ABANDONED

Abandonment of the heatless Monday program was considered yesterday by Fuel Administrator Garfield and Director of Railroads McAdoo. It was announced, however, that the closing order would remain in effect next Monday, but that on Tuesday a conference would be held to determine whether it would be rescinded before Monday, February 11.

COUNCIL MEETS MONDAY

The regular monthly meeting of the City Council will be held next Monday night. One of the matters to come before the body at that time will be the election of a new matron, owing to the death of the present matron, Mrs. James L. Crane.

KELLUM PLACED UNDER ARREST

James Kellum, indicated by the Mason county grand jury in December on a charge of carry away personal property belonging to another, was arrested on Carmel street last night by Officer W. A. Tolle and placed in jail.

HOUSE MEMBERS TO MAKE INQUIRY

Frankfort, Ky., February 1—After the formal opening of the House, an invitation was extended to Lieut. Paul Perigord to address a joint meeting of the Assembly at 2 o'clock February 21.

As a result of the report of State Inspector and Examiner Sewell advising the members of the House that they are drawing money illegally when they draw for holidays and Sundays and days they do not actually work, Representative Rice requested that the House ask the Attorney General for an opinion as to their rights as salaries.

The special meetings at First Presbyterian Church will be postponed to February 11, on account of the severe weather.

OUR GROWTH

Government experts estimate that the population of continental United States, which is to say the main body of the country, excluding our island possessions, on January 1, was 105,006,000. That was an increase of 1,709,000 over January 1, 1917. And it's interesting to note, in passing, that we might figure about 700,000 of that increase as young men coming of military age during the year. At any rate, that's about the extent of our annual military increment.

Also, on January 1, we had a general stock of money amounting to $6,256,198,000, an increase of $1,244,153,000 over the previous New Year's day.

Our cash actually in circulation was $5,120,425,000. That is, we had $48.76 apiece in our pockets and sugar bowls and hose, exactly $5.76 more than we had a year ago.

All of which contributes to the general impression that the United States is growing. The big population increase was almost wholly native, and therefore natural and inevitable growth. In fact, the migration balance probably went against us—more people left the country than entered it. The money increase represents, likewise, natural and inevitable earnings.

Nothing can keep this country from growing, in people and in wealth, and in whatever other elements go to the making of a great nation. Just remember that on January 1, 1870, there were only 48,000,000 of us, and we only had $16.92 apiece in circulation. And then guess how many people and how much active cash we'll have, say, on January 1, 1950.

As for our total national wealth, nobody knows how much it is. The only thing certain is that it's over $200,000,000, more than twice as much as the wealth of any other nation on earth, and growing faster than that of any other nation.

Our population is the greatest homogenous population on earth—that is, speaking the same language and having the same civilization—and is increasing faster than any other.

It doesn't demand any unusual prophetic power to foretell which is going to be the foremost nation of the future. Heretofore we have played a comparatively small part in the world's affairs. We are just coming into our heritage, just getting our stride as leader of modern civilization. Today our moral and spiritual weight is as impressive as our weight of man-power and material resources. The rest of the twentieth century is ours.

GARDNER—AN APPRECIATION

Hon. Nicholas Longworth, of Ohio—To the country Gardner's taking off, particularly at this time, is a loss of monumental proportions, if not one entirely irreparable. Putting aside all question of his proved usefulness in many legislative fields, he had in the last years so made himself the very cornerstone in Congress of the structure of national military preparedness that we shall search in vain, I fear, for one to fill his place. Where shall we find another with a knowledge of military technique so complete, an energy so vast, a purpose to force home the truth so indelible?

His voice was the first raised in Congress for preparedness without reserve and without equivocation. Unfortunately, for many months it was a "vox clamantis in deserto" and fell unheeded upon the ears of men in high places. Where now, though, is the man who will deny that had greater heed been paid to his warnings and action founded upon them this country would be playing a far more active and effective part in the war, that our ultimate cost in blood and treasure would have been infinitely less and the day of victory far advanced? When the history of these times is written, when the services of men to the American Nation in this, its time of greatest need, and their contribution to the ultimate victory which we will, must, and shall win, are duly weighed and appraised by posterity, I predict with perfect confidence that high upon the roll of honor will be written the name of Augustus Peabody Gardner, statesman, patriot, and gallant gentleman.

THE BAR CARRIES ON

The voluntary, free-of-charge services of the lawyers of the land have made the taking of the draft questionnaire a comparatively easy matter. This work has been done, not merely by the young practitioner desirous of extending his acquaintance but also by most of the older members of the bar to whom the time spent in this duty has been a real loss of professional income. A larger measure of concerted voluntary service has hardly ever been rendered in any cause. The legal fraternity has earned the thanks of every community, where, but for its assistance, the registrants would have had a hard time of it.

SUBMARINE FIGHTERS

Of New Type To Be Turned Out Soon
— Ford Factory Constructing Them Rapidly, Says Secretary Daniels.

Washington, February 1.—New submarine fighters of a powerful type are about to be turned out in the United States in large numbers. After testifying yesterday before the House Naval Committee on the naval appropriation bill Secretary Daniels authorized the statement that contracts for "several scores" of the new craft have been placed with the Ford Motor Company, of Detroit. He described them as "half way between a destroyer and submarine chaser," 200 feet long, and equipped with latest discoveries for combating submarines.

All parts of the ships except the engines are to be fabricated in Detroit and the parts shipped to seaboard, where they will be assembled. Changes in the Ford plant to permit the handling of the work have progressed so swiftly, Mr. Daniels said, that deliveries on the contracts during summer are assured.

The new vessels are expected to prove far superior to the chasers now in use, including those of the 110 class. They will have steam power with a greater radius of action, will be more seaworthy and will be able to carry heavier armament. It has developed that the latest German submarines are equipped with guns that outrange those of small chasers and even some merchant ships.

RIVER SITUATION IMPROVED AT CINCINNATI

A telegram from Cincinnati this morning stated that the ice gorge at Fernbank Dam still held but that the river was falling. Many homes and factories in the lawlands were inundated by the flood there yesterday, the gauge registering 61 feet yesterday afternoon at 1 o'clock, after which it began to slowly recede.

STEAMER GREENLAND WRECKED

The steamer Greenland, the Cren-Line's biggest and finest steamer, which has been plying the Cincinnati-Charleston trade for several years, was wrecked by a heavy ice floe at Cincinnati yesterday. The boat was being repaired at the Queen City Marine Ways and was thought to be safe after most of the heavy ice had passed.

The government thermometer registered 5 above this morning. The weather bureau predict warmer weather tonight and tomorrow.

And the groundhog saw his shadow.

A man giving the name of Martin and claiming Louisville as his home was here recently soliciting orders for a medicine he claims is made in Louisville by the White Cloud Institute and is guaranteed to cure, but we learn he did no business with anyone. Our citizens are all very wary since quite a number were very recently fleeced out of their money by a man, claiming the name of Johnson and Mason county as his home, he taking their orders for the Lexington Leader to be delivered to each one for one year, three issues per week for $1. After he had secured over 50 in this end of our county Joe Reynolds had the office at Lexington called by long distance phone who stated that he was a fraud as they knew nothing about him. He was then arrested and taken to jail at Flemingsburg but released by the authorities through sympathy as he said that he thought he had

DIZZY SPELLS

Relieved After Taking Two Bottles
Of Cardui, Says Tennessee Lady.

Whitwell, Tenn.—Mrs. G. P. Cartwright, of this place, writes: "About four years ago the dizzy spells got so bad that when I would start to walk I would just pretty near fall. I wasn't past doing my work, but was very much run-down.

I told my husband I thought Cardui would help me, as a lady who lived next door to me had taken a great deal, and told me to try it. This was when we were living in Kentucky.

My husband got me a bottle and I took it according to directions. It helped me so much that he went back and got me another bottle. I got a whole lot better and just quit taking it. I got over the dizzy spells... I took no other medicine at that time nor since for this trouble. No, I've never regretted taking Cardui.

I felt just fine when I finished the second bottle."

Truly vegetable, mild and gentle in its action, Cardui, the woman's tonic, may be the very medicine you need. If you suffer from symptoms of female troubles, give Cardui a trial.

fleece others in other sections of the country which we learn he has been doing in Lewis county.
